

∴ Religious Study and Training History ∴

I was involved with Campus Crusade for Christ (CCC) for a number of years (around 5 years) while I attended New Mexico State University. I was involved with small Bible study groups almost every semester. One semester, I was involved with a team that took care of logistics for all of CCC. This included notifying students of upcoming events, collecting fees for retreats and conferences, and setting up communications between other teams. Another semester I was on a team that planned and scheduled fun and social events to draw students in.

I also helped start a ministry called Bridges, to reach the international/exchange students on our campus. Each semester had a number of events to get to know the international students and to be able to relate to them in a spiritual way. Such events included outdoor barbeques, trips to the county fair, and even an American Thanksgiving dinner.

I also went on three separate mission trips with CCC over consecutive summers from 2000 to 2002. All three of these trips were to Osaka, Japan where we did ministry to Japanese college students from different universities in Osaka. These trips really helped me grow spiritually and gave me a good chance to do evangelism in Japan.
